

A About What

A diagram to understand the harm of extraction and how reparation and structural transition aim to compensate. Annotations hint at what beyond repair could englobe and locate spatial typologies of post-extraction bugs.

B Which Grounds

A diagram to map the outreach of terraforming through extraction and how reparation covers it up. The ground is marked by future developments of structural transition. The post-extraction bugs are situated within this territory.

C Who Cares

A diagram to organize the messiness of actors involved in extraction, reparation and structural transition. The post-extraction bugs result in webs of relations and dependencies.

